

The Order: Gifted

Characters:

Rosetta Bianchi (TheRealEuphoria)
Claudius Glacialis Atticus /Cloud(Yoshikrab)
Nubia Kalava(TheRealEuphoria)
Catherine McCarthy (winterwolf0100)
Ken Daniels Jr./Aiden(winterwolf0100)
Character (LadyMysterio)
Thomas Walter Chase/Tommy (ChesTacos)
Charlotte Brown/Charlie (ChesTacos)
Agatha Irene/Aggie (ImaginativeAlice)

PLOT

The order calls you to join them. You are one of the special that are picked. You meet all requirements. This will forever destroy your prison sentence, so you have no choice but to take it. Here you will learn how to control your powers. Although, some incoming students may not have such good intentions towards The Order.

More information about The Order: Most of your characters will have known about Amelia, Jared, and Nubia. If they do not, they were probably raised without any history on how they got their powers. The Order was originally created by Harry Truman (33rd president) to keep people like our characters secret and non-threatening once he discovered his niece could manipulate matter. It eventually turned into a hell house when Amelia took control. She almost changed it into a plantation (which you will see soon wink wink) where those with lesser powers must serve her, and you. If you've ever seen "Get Out" Think of that mixed with the Harry Potter novels. Lol.

As you will see, The Order will mostly be focusing on teaching your characters Dark Arts. Think of Amelia as delusional. She believes that those with powerful gifts are more likely to master Dark Arts. The reality of it is that most people cannot.

Her plan is to open the Dark Realm and control the Planet with your characters by her side. Some of your characters may want that, some may not. She needs as much power as she can to control the dark entities-- and not put herself in danger in the process. She won't tell your characters that, though, I'm thinking they can find out by themselves. (Muahahaha)

Character Goals

Next to your Characters name, please write they're intentions and or thoughts during this time of change. What do you have planned for them? Any crazy plot ideas involving your character? Any love Interests? New developments? Put them here!

Rosetta Bianchi (TheRealEuphoria):I originally had plans for Rosetta to mix shit up lmao. She has a very smart mouth. It always gets her in trouble. I was thinking maybe she could have some sort of rivalry with another character. She's cocky of her elemental control. Maybe she tries to kill Amelia. Since Amelia killed her mother there's motive. She could be planning it and would act super sneaky to everyone because she doesn't wanna get executed like her mom. Idk. ~~Or they could all be in on it~~

Claudius Glacialis Atticus /Cloud(Yoshikrab):Cloud really just wants something interesting to happen in his life. Basically, he fits the description of his name. He's like a cloudy day. Not too heated, not too cold. Can sometimes be windy and hostile, and sometimes can be quiet and observing. He's just never extreme.

Since it is possible for Cloud to die after doing further research on the most dangerous animals in Romania they have some crazy snake called a long-nosed viper. maybe for one of the trainings they had a pit of them and he falls in/someone pushes him/ gets dared to go in etc.... thats a pretty morbid death if you ask me(love the idea) . . . and still live on, I think there should be like a really creative, terrifying, morbid way of him dying. And then dying over and over again. Love interests: not really. Let's just say he used to have a crush on eight-year old Marilyn Monroe and leave it at that.

I think if there's conflict involving Aiden, Cloud can slow down time to prevent the spread of whatever disease Aiden's creating.

Nubia Kalava(TheRealEuphoria): Nubia will probably end up crushing on Aiden because for some reason she has a thing for bad boys. I feel like he'd open her up a little, even though they're complete opposites. I'm not sure what would be a good plot twist for Nubia. I mean, she controls death basically. She can talk to dead people. She turns into a Succubus... Maybe Amelia could put her up to something. Any ideas? I'm stuck for her

In the beginning maybe Nubia is still super hesitant of the new students. She doesn't trust easily so she could probably just stay on Amelia and Jared's side, doing as they say, until she gets closer to Aiden and realizes what Amelia wants isn't the right thing.

Catherine McCarthy (winterwolf0100) :

Ken Daniels Jr./Aiden(winterwolf0100) Oh, by the way. I had a really good idea for Aiden. Idk what you think of it, but here's my idea. So you know how Aiden creates diseases and stuff. Well, maybe one day he gets angry at some Chinese hunters and then transmits a virus to them through a bat. So basically, it'll be like Aiden created COVID. You like that idea? The thing is we don't know where COVID came from, it coming from bat soup is a rumour with no evidence. So this is a very interesting idea but I'd have to contemplate it because that's also a huge impact on their world around them. He is capable of something like that but he'd have to get very upset with a random stranger, enough so that he would risk being put back in prison or executed as Amelia threatens. I suggest against that. The exact origin of COVID is kinda unclear, and at this point we're kinda past bats and crap. So I wouldn't go into that if I were you. Yeah, I wasn't really wanting a huge thing like that honestly. I'm not quite sure how I feel about it, but I wasn't planning on it. He used his powers a ton when he killed all those people, but it was pretty drawn out, and he wouldn't tell anyone but it completely drained him for around a month or so. He also didn't do it all in one snap. All of the students getting sick happened over a week or two, and when people got it they didn't immediately die, it took a few days. Starting something like Covid would be very difficult even for him, and everyone has their limits. I don't really want to make him unstoppable, if that makes sense.

Character (LadyMysterio):

Thomas/Tommy (ChesTacos):

Likes to keep to himself but has an eye for an eye personality. If you wrong him he will hurt you. Not much for goals, just wants to survive and get revenge on his enemies.

Charlotte/Charlie (ChesTacos)

Agatha Irene/Aggie (ImaginativeAlice) If there will ever be something about the forbidden forest or something like all the characters planned something to know about the forbidden forest or to follow Nubia. Aggie could help because don't forget she can control and understand the animals of the forbidden forest as well.

Gift Descriptions:

Amelia Bianchi:

- Psychometry: She has the ability to discover information about an event or person by touching inanimate objects associated with them. Also by touching skin-to-skin.
- Immortality
- Power Nullification: By concentration she is able to nullify anybody's gifts-- or even make them mute.
- Clairvoyance: She's able to tell the future as well as events that will happen years and years from now. She knew 9/11 was going to happen back in 1870.

Jared Bianchi:

- Immortality
- Supernatural Intelligence: He's super/unnaturally smarter than the normal human because his mental capabilities are pushed beyond the natural level. His IQ is somewhere in the 300s.
- Neuro-Psychic Knowledge: Jared has the ability to manipulate and re-wire functions in his cerebellum. He knows the answer to almost every single question you could ask him.
- Visualization: Jared also has the ability to visualize images, information, and objects. It's like in movies when someone super smart is doing work on an imaginary chalkboard in front of them, SUPER quickly (Except in his case, it's not imaginary. Everyone can see it).

Nubia:

- Immortality
- Succubus Physiology: Even in human form, she's able to use the abilities of her Succubus. Boosted Strength, speed, and supernatural level of beauty.
 - Mental Inducement
 - Seductive Magnetism
 - Dream Walking (moving from dream-to-dream. Usually men.)
- Demonic Magic: Nubia uses demonic magic to achieve several goals such as creating, destroying and reconstructing anything, sometimes even to warp reality.
- Dark Arts: She will sometimes use this gift for selfish, self-serving and/or nefarious purposes. Though it is not necessarily "evil" magic, dark arts tend to focus on destruction, harming, cursing and otherwise complicating the lives of other people while advancing the user's state. Kind of like voodoo.

Rosetta:

- Immortality
- Elemental Control: Rosetta can control and manipulate the elements of air, earth, fire and water.
 - Fire: she can control flames, embers, or any object with a temperature considerably higher. However, it requires concentration, as loss of control can lead to mass destruction and death.
 - Water: She can control any bodies of water and liquids of any kind. This gift has healing properties as well.

- Air: She has control over gusts of wind, tornados, etc. She uses this to cause storms, create rain or clean the environment.

- Earth: Rosetta has control of the minerals and earth movements. She can cause earthquakes and tremors. It's the hardest one for her to handle because the Earth is so unpredictable.

Cloud:

- Reincarnation:
- Space-Time Manipulation:

Catherine:

- Density Control:
- Suspended Animation:

Aiden:

- Immortal Aging:
- Disease/Illness Manipulation:

Thomas:

- Immortality

Doesn't age and can't die of old age

- Telekinesis:

Can move things with his mind and bend things

Charlotte:

- Decelerated Aging:

Aging is slowed down by a lot for her

- Sonic Scream:

Basically just a scream that can cause destruction, can blast things back or knock things over etc

Jared and Amelia carry Rose away. "Stay here" Amelia orders. Once they're out of earshot Thomas turns to Aiden. "Are you gonna run off again" he asks, grinning. Aiden laughs "I don't run away from things" he says. Thomas sits down next to him. "I heard what you said about Catherine" he says. "What about it" Aiden scowls. Thomas chuckles "oh don't worry, I completely agree. Only that bitch would do something like that."

Thomas sees Jared and Amelia coming back. "Here they come" he says, standing up. "Where's Charlotte" Jared frowns. Thomas shrugs "she ran off."

"I'll go get her" Amelia says "continue down the list." Jared nods "OK, Thomas why don't you demonstrate your power for us?"

"And what about Rose" Thomas asks. "She'll be fine, we will skip her for now, please demonstrate your power." Thomas strides down and looks for something to use his power on. A rock perhaps? Or a tree? He concentrates hard on the tree, it begins to shake, before finally becoming uprooted and flung to the side. Jared nods "very good, you may sit down now." Thomas makes his way back to where he was before and sits down next to Aiden "say, I never asked...what's your power" he asks.

Hey! So this looks pretty good. I'd alter his first line slightly from "I considered it" to "I don't run away from things." And then the only thing I'd say is for the second line, he wouldn't get defensive because he said it loud on purpose with the intent of other people hearing. He'd probably say casually "what about it?"

Agatha

- Dream manipulation
- Animal telepathy

DINNERTIME POST:

Random tid-bit of convo:

Aiden flashed a lazy smirk. "Catherine--pass the salt?"

Catherine froze, a blank look on her face. "No," she said stonily, taking another bite of the food in front of her.

"Fine... the pepper?"

Catherine let out a small frustrated noise. "[i]No[/i]," she repeated emphatically, and Aiden grinned. Catherine had always kept her composure around him, so he clearly must be getting under her nerves a lot for her to reply like that-- or maybe she was grumpy from the fever she no doubt had. Being sick could definitely bring out the grimy in people.

Rosetta:

I mean, who would've thought. A concussion? On show-and-tell day? Just my luck.

The nurse's office, or medic-area—whatever it's called, was quite dim. The place had this disgusting purple wallpaper, and the nurse smelled of whiskey and throw-up—which was most likely her own.

I had never really had anyone ask me about my tattoos as much as I did in that hell-hole. I'd have to say it was worse than Verna, the woman made my skin tingle in ways I didn't even know it could. Her bright pink lipstick, and red and violet polka-dotted skirt was absolutely terrifying.

My skin quivers as I exit the awful-smelling room of the she-devil, and I start to walk towards the dining hall where I can hear some of the other students eating.

That lady had forced me to eat these old-looking grits that tasted weirdly of cucumber and mayonnaise. That wasn't even the worst part, she even told me to pour raisins in it. Don't get me wrong, I know people all around the world enjoy raisins in their grits—but none of them are me.

"Well, well, well," I begin, smirking and pulling up a chair from the small coffee table across the room, "I say, since we're all free, we explore the place a little bit. I've been trapped in that old-lady's torture chamber for hours, and I'd like to get the sight of her obnoxiously pink-crinkly lips out of my head. Who's with me?"

I glance at Charlotte, who rolls her eyes at me in disbelief, and continues to pick at her salmon; which honestly looks cold by now. My eyes then drift to Thomas, who sighs, "Why not?"

My smirk grows wider, and I nudge Catherine, who is sitting beside me, "What about you?"

She glares at me, the worst kind, and I sigh, standing up once again and pacing the room. There's something I find intriguing about Catherine. Her whole aura is just... weird. My smile grows.

"Listen, I'm sorry, okay? For the plane, I mean. I'm not a [i]horrible[/i] human being, you know. It's not very nice to judge somebody after one little incident. Plus, I'd have to say, you handled yourself pretty well," I say, glancing out the window at the rain.

Catherine doesn't respond, her face unnaturally neutral. She must be doing that on purpose, then. I see Aiden watching me with an almost disappointed expression, but I can't tell if it's disappointment in me or the lack of a reaction from Catherine. "Exploring? Wonder where your bravado was when I went earlier," he says with a slight smirk.

Nubia looks towards me, her expression that of horror, "Are you nuts?"

I break my gaze with the thunderstorm and look at her, "I might be. But you'd have to come too, you know. We don't know our way around, plus, we need some dark magic for protection."

"Nuh-uh," She shakes her head in disgust, "I will not take part in whatever shenanigans you all have going on. We have orders to go straight back to our rooms, and Amelia will make our lives a living hell if she finds out."

"Oh, stop it," Aiden looks at her, "How long have you even been here? Twenty years? A hundred? Have you even seen the Forbidden Forest? I'm curious to see what's so Forbidden about it, and I agree with Rosetta. She won't find out unless somebody tells."

Nubia stands and rolls her eyes, sighing and grabbing the candle in front of her, "Like I said, you all are on your own. I've been here long enough to know Amelia knows everything."

"Don't be a party-pooper," I grin, walking closer to her, "What are you, a coward?"

"I am [i]not[/i] a coward," She frowns, her eyes locking with mine.

"Oh yeah? So, why don't you use those scrawny little legs and bring us there. You don't need to come in with us. I'm sure we can handle our own. I don't wanna be locked in this place, plus, I'm bored and I'm sure I'll get some type of entertainment watching you tremble as we take our first steps into that forest," I giggle. snatching the candle away from her.

"You all don't understand," She looks at Aiden, and then her eyes move back to mine, balling her fists in anger, "That's a suicide mission. You all wouldn't last five minutes in the forest, and I can promise you that. I will not allow [i]you[/i] of all people make me look like a coward, because with one flick of my finger, I could send you straight to hell."

"Oh, that's scary," I scoff, "Dark magic doesn't intimidate me. And you, being as inexperienced as you are, wouldn't dare lie a finger on me."

Her eyes glow red and her fists seem to be turning purple, "I am not going to let you bring this side of me out. You're not worth it, and you know that if I wanted to kill you, I could. Be careful."

She grabs the candle back and glances at everyone before walking towards the exit of the dining hall, "And for the rest of you, if you knew what was good for you, you'd follow the rules."

She exits, angrily walking back towards her quarter, and I smile back at everyone, "Get your rainboots on everyone, we're going on a little hike."

Nubia looks towards me, her expression that of horror, "Are you nuts?"

I break my gaze with the thunderstorm and look at her, "I might be. But you'd have to come too, you know. We don't know our way around, plus, we need some dark magic for protection."

"Nuh-uh," She shakes her head in disgust, "I will not take part in whatever shenanigans you all have going on. We have orders to go straight back to our rooms, and Amelia will make our lives a living hell if she finds out."

"She seems pretty manipulative, like she tries to get everyone under her thumb," Aiden says, a hint of concern in his voice. "I mean, it seems like a situation where she's trying to keep people in the dark by making them fear her."

Nubia looks hesitant as she contemplates his words, and Aiden adds, "You don't have to if you don't want to though. That's understandable. You do seem to know her best." He watches her with a carefully crafted expression, waiting until she looks down before he turns to Rosetta and a hint of a smile flashes quickly before disappearing.

AGATHA (FORBIDDEN FOREST POST)

Finally something exciting to do in this place full of bored people, I mean I always wanted to explore this place but just didn't get the chance, so let's do this!

Well Thomas agreed, Kendrik is starting to stand up, Aiden too.

“I wouldn’t mind a walk,” Cloud said with an expressionless face. I saw Charlotte still picking at her salmon, I faced her and whispered.

“A small tour wouldn’t kill, just come!” I suggested with a smile on my face, I feel a little bad that I embarrassed her like that by displaying her dream. She didn’t reply but finally left her salmon and stood up.

“Well, I wouldn’t mind a bit of an adventure.” I said and I too stood up and started to go out with everyone else.

Okay so only Catherine and Nubia didn’t agree but everyone else is going, fine let’s go!

FORBIDDEN FOREST

It was around 8:55pm, hmm well it’s not that late we will get back around 11pm and sneak into our rooms, no one will notice I guess.

We all sneaked out, being careful in the corridors and finally we were outside the Lucifer castle and we were now in the training field. It was dark and wild outside, the rain was non stop pouring and the trees rustled as the winds blew fiercely. Whoa it all looked so exciting for an adventure!

We all now took cover under a tree. And I took out something from my pocket.

“What’s this?” Rosetta said.

“A map, obviously. It’s the map of around here, I took it from the library yesterday, thought it would be of use,” I said.

“Surely it will be of use,” Rosetta smirked and snatched it away from me.

“ Well, in the left side of the map, there is just this lake, no fun,” Aiden said

“So then let’s move to our real destination, the Forbidden Forest!” Rosetta announced cheerfully.

“Alright, it just sounds like a forest in a fairy tale,” Cloud said

"Guys, but don't you think, there must be some reason it is written, not to enter. And why would you risk your life," Thomas said.

I saw Charlotte giving a little nod and Kendrick looked confused.

"Okay so now when Catherine is not here, you are trying to be the party pooper," Roseeta said

"Thomas, let's just take a look, Aren't you at all excited to see what's so forbidden about it?" I said and Thoma sighed.

And now we all were wet already so we moved on towards the Forbidden Forest, the sky was getting darker and darker.

And soon we were now in front of the entry gate of the Forbidden Forest and yeah it was called the Forbidden Forest for a reason.
